DESIGN BRIEF

The client requested a private resort to be used as a vocation home for the family with private bedrooms in the first floor.

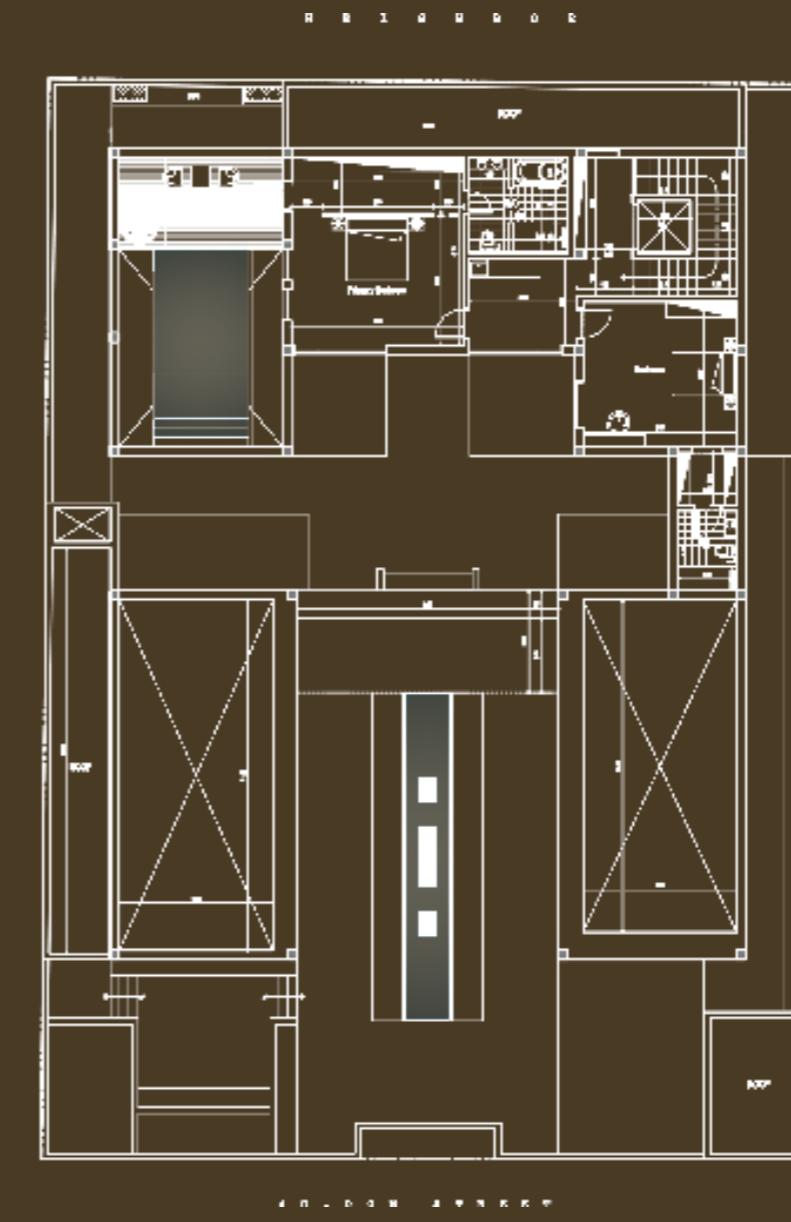

The Arab culture is based on hospitality so the seating and dining area was designed with that in mind.

The design style for this project was a mix of costal and boho for a relaxed and cozy look which was "the perfect fit" according to the client.

DESIGN BRIEF

The challenge in this lot was the lot size as it is narrow and the client wished for many additions for their dream house.

I worked on the massing and general plan layout as well as finalising the project's working drawings.

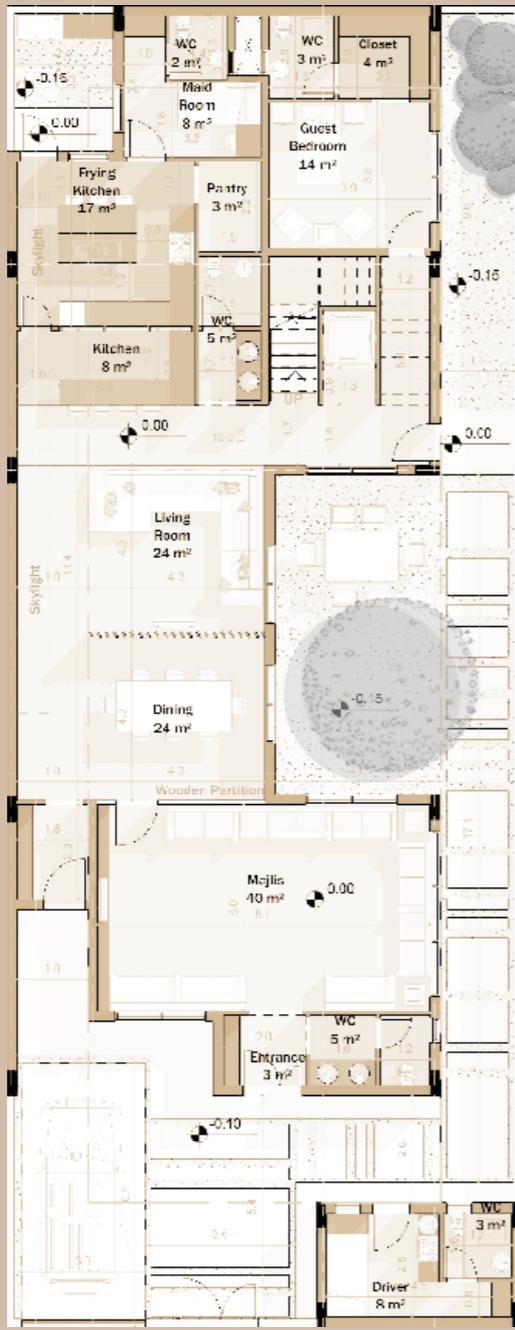

I developed two options in the preliminary stages of design in 5 business days for a client meeting.

The client finally found what they preferred in each option which helped me mix and match to move forward in the design process.

DESIGN BRIEF

The client approached the design team with an underconstruction 3 rental units property but needed a more modern twist to the exterior.

I had the pleasure to give it a modern touch following the client's wishes. Mainly giving it a feel of one big villa rather than 3 mirrored facades.

IDEA & CONCEPT

The promise of a democratic country torched the December 2018 Revolution within the Sudanese people hearts. It encouraged them to create a new community. A better Sudan.

The union created by the revolution among different ethnic, religious, and social groups, was needed to secure a better future for Sudan. Hence, the need for a place such as Djamman. A community with facilities designed to help the community grow, encourage the public to engage in a more democratic environment which gives them the sense of empowerment and eventually enhancing that community.

DJAMMAN MEANING {pron: ðjammæn}

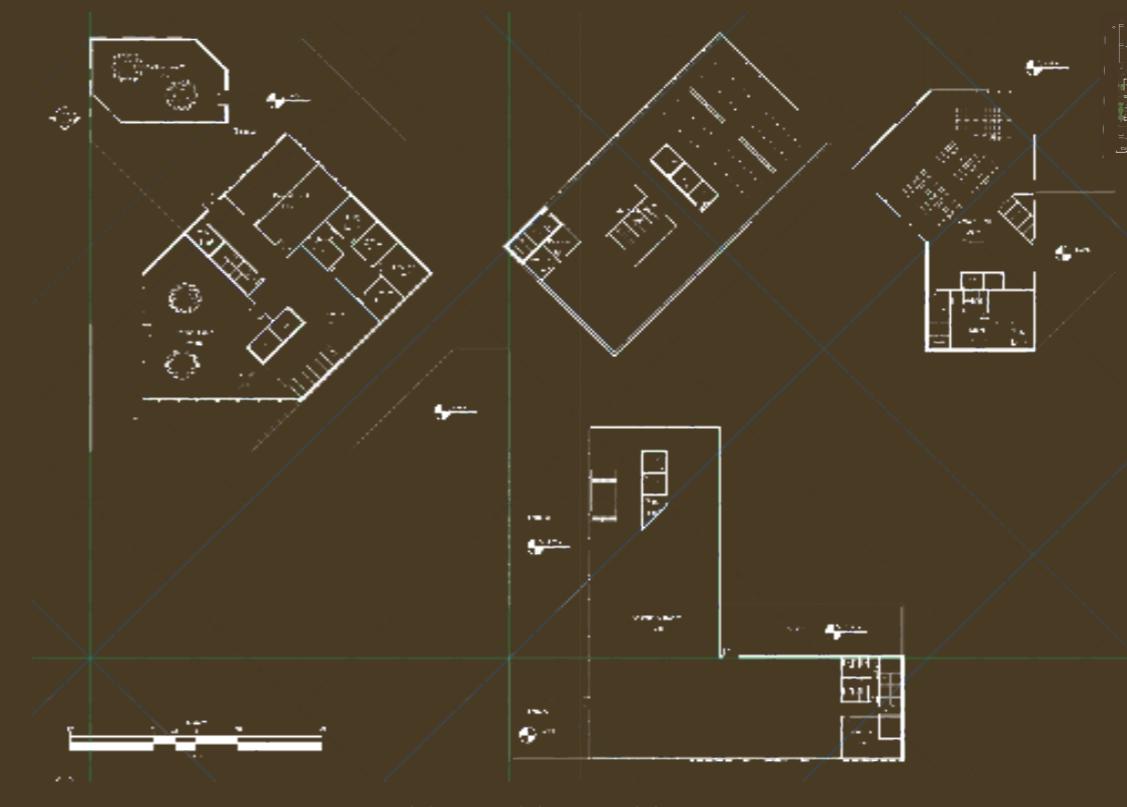

Djamman with silenced 'D' is a word in the Nubian language that means togetherness or unity. It was chosen as the title of the project as a reminder of the single united front that the Sudanese society projected during the times of hardship as it serves as a place of connection.

Djamman is an urban development BY THE PEOPLE, FOR THE PEOPLE.
